

Harvington Prep School

Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) Policy

Aim of the Policy

To set out the school's approach to statutory Relationships and Sex Education (RSE)

Objectives of the Policy

- to provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- to prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- to help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- to create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- to teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies
- to complement all relevant school policies and procedures found on the Harvington School Operations Tree, including the Pastoral Care and Safeguarding Policies

Introduction

We aim to offer pupils a carefully planned programme on human development, relationships, sexuality and family life within a safe, comfortable atmosphere and in a relaxed relationship between teacher and pupil. The programme is set within a moral framework and matched to the pupils' level of maturity. It forms part of the school's aim to foster pupil well-being and to develop resilience and strength of character. This policy reflects the requirements of the National Curriculum and reflects the statutory guidance from the Department for Education "Relationships and Sex Education \(RSE\) and Health Education" (DfE, 2019) and the PSHE Association's supplementary guidance "Writing your school's relationships and sex education (RSE) policy" (PSHE Association, September 2018).

Rationale and Ethos

At Harvington School, RSE is underpinned by the ethos and values of our school. Our vision is to create a safe, positive and stimulating environment in which all members of the school community learn and grow in confidence, knowledge and skills.

Through our combined RSE and PSHE curriculum, we aim to provide children with the knowledge, skills and understanding they need to lead confident, healthy, independent lives and to become informed, active and responsible citizens. In providing children with an understanding of healthy and respectful relationships and appropriate boundaries, we consider effective RSE to be a fundamental part of our approach to supporting pupils to grow into confident, caring, responsible and respectful young citizens.

RSE is lifelong learning about personal, physical, moral and emotional development. It is set in the context of clear values about the understanding of the importance of stable and loving relationships, respect, love and care for family life. It should teach children and young people to develop and form positive values, attitudes, personal and social skills, and increase their knowledge and understanding of how to make informed decisions and life choices.

Up to and including Key Stage 2 we define Relationships Education as learning about caring friendships, families and people who care for me, respectful relationships, online relationships, being safe, growing up, puberty and mental well-being. Relationships Education provides an excellent forum to provide pupils with life skills that will enable them to make informed decisions and protect themselves against harmful and exploitative situations. Relationships Education is therefore a tool to safeguard children.

Roles and Responsibilities

Relationships Education (RSE) is taught as part of the Personal, Social, Health and Economic (PSHE) education curriculum in our school. The RSE programme is overseen by the Curriculum Co-ordinator.

Teaching staff will receive ongoing training in the delivery of the RSE curriculum through dedicated staff meetings, led by the co-ordinator with the support of external experts as required.

As a school we recognise the need to work with parents and carers to ensure a shared understanding of RSE and to deliver an effective programme that meets the needs of our pupils.

The content of this policy is being developed in relation to the needs of our pupils and in consultation with school staff and Governors. As is required by the new statutory guidance, parents will be consulted on the relevant content within the policy. This consultation will be completed by way of an online questionnaire, the results will be analysed by the Director of Studies and co-ordinator of PSHE and, where necessary, adaptations will be made to the policy. We believe that this process ensures that the curriculum we provide for our pupils is reflective of the requirements placed upon us and also of the needs of our school community.

Monitoring and Evaluation

Our aim is to provide RSE that is relevant and tailored to meet the needs of our pupils, depending on their age and stage of personal development. For this reason, we regularly review the RSE curriculum to evaluate its effectiveness and will inform parents of any revisions to the school policy or curriculum as required.

Teachers will continually reflect on the effectiveness of our PSHE provision, and the PSHE Co-ordinator will gather staff views and feedback. Pupil feedback will also be used to inform reviews and updates to planning, resources and activities.

This policy will be reviewed, in consultation with the Director of Studies, every year. This is then approved by the Senior Management Team (SMT).

The RSE Curriculum

Effective Relationships and Sex Education can make a significant contribution to the development of the personal skills needed by pupils if they are to establish and maintain positive, healthy relationships. It also enables young people to make responsible and informed decisions about their health and wellbeing.

At Harvington the RSE & PSHE curriculum has been created using specific programme building guidance from the PSHE Association, and the London Borough of Ealing, Healthy School programme.

The programme consists of three core themes:

- Health and Wellbeing
- Living in the Wider World
- Relationships

All three themes are developed in an age-appropriate way and apply across topics. These include:

- NSPCC pants rule
- Families and Friendships
- Safe Relationships
- Respecting Ourselves and Others
- Belonging to a Community
- Media Literacy and Digital Resilience
- Money and Work
- Physical Health and Mental Wellbeing
- Growing and Changing
- Keeping Safe

The RSE programme enables spiritual, moral, social and cultural education and the teaching of fundamental British values across all topics and year groups.

Respecting and valuing differences, embracing diversity and challenging discrimination, recognising and respecting feelings and boundaries, developing healthy relationships and understanding rules, rights and responsibilities in school, family and wider community, are all themes that recur throughout the programme.

Non-Statutory Sex Education

As part of statutory Health Education, children are taught in an age appropriate way about puberty and the associated physical and emotional changes. Although sex education is not compulsory in primary schools, we believe children should understand the basics about sexual organs.

We believe that teaching curriculum content to pupils will ensure that they are better prepared for transition to secondary school and also support their personal and social development as they grow into young adults. As is legally prescribed, parents have a right to withdraw their children from these lessons about Puberty and a letter or consent is sort.

Delivery

All elements of the RSE programme will be delivered in an age-appropriate and sensitive manner as part of our regular weekly timetabled PSHE lessons.

Occasionally, appropriate and suitably experienced and/or knowledgeable visitors from outside school may be invited to contribute to the delivery of RSE in school. All visitors will be familiar with and understand the school's RSE and Safeguarding policies and be expected to work within them.

Teaching and Learning Strategies

We aim to provide an environment and atmosphere for RSE where pupils feel safe, relaxed, unintimidated, and focused; and where they have confidence and trust in the knowledge, ability and skills of staff in school. This ensures that both pupils and staff feel fully confident in engaging in age-appropriate discussions around potentially sensitive topics and themes.

We aim to build age-appropriate ground rules with all year groups which are revised regularly to ensure they are still relevant. They should also be revisited before the start of each lesson as a reminder to pupils.

Examples of ground rules are:

- listening to and respecting what other people say
- not saying personal things about other people
- using the correct words for all parts of the body
- having the right to pass

- establishing age-appropriate confidentiality and safeguarding.

Children and teachers are free to suggest and agree further ground rules as appropriate to the topic of each lesson.

Other teaching and learning strategies utilised in RSE (and across the PSHE curriculum) to establish a safe learning environment include the following techniques:

- Using 'distancing' techniques such as role play, case studies, videos to depersonalise sensitive issues.
- Anonymous question boxes. These can help children to have the confidence to ask sensitive questions, and they provide an opportunity for teachers to pre-empt questions that might not be age appropriate or that might raise safeguarding or child protection concerns.
- It will be emphasised to children that any voluntary sharing of information should be anonymous (for example "someone I know..." rather than "I" or naming names). Should personal questions be asked of either children or staff, children will be reminded that the ground rules for RSE prohibit personal questions. Although staff may draw on their personal experiences to answer certain questions, for example around menstruation, this should always be depersonalised and discussed in the third person rather than the first person. All staff teaching RSE will be supported and advised by the PSHE co-ordinator, where necessary.

Managing Difficult Questions

During both formal and informal RSE sessions, pupils are encouraged to ask questions. Any questions from pupils are answered according to the age and maturity of the pupil concerned, and if the teacher delivering the session deems it appropriate to answer.

Teaching staff will endeavour to answer questions as openly as possible but if faced with a question they do not feel comfortable answering within the classroom, or that is not age-appropriate (or within the school's RSE policy), provision may be made to address the individual child's requirements. The school believes that individual teachers must use their professional skill and discretion in this area and refer to the Designated Safeguarding Lead if they are concerned about any question from a safeguarding perspective.

If a teacher does not know the answer to a question or if a question is felt to be inappropriate, this should be acknowledged and, if considered necessary, may be followed up outside the classroom environment with individual pupils.

Children may also be referred back to their parents/carers who have ultimate responsibility in talking to their children about sensitive matters. We will also encourage parents to talk with school if they have any questions or queries, and if they would like advice on how to better support their child and continue learning outside of the classroom.

Recording and Assessment

Pupils will have the opportunity to reflect on their learning within lessons and at the end of each unit. In addition to the pupils' self-assessment, teachers will assess through informal methods, such as observations and class or group discussions. Observations may have a particular focus; such as children's listening skills, empathy etc. Quizzes may be used before and after a unit of work to aid assessment. A class scrap book is kept throughout the year to record lessons each week, not often in written form but through the work the children produce or speak about.

Safeguarding

In providing children with an understanding of healthy relationships and appropriate boundaries, we consider RSE to be an important part of our school's approach to safeguarding.

Teachers are aware that effective RSE, which brings an understanding of what is and what is not appropriate in a relationship, can lead to a disclosure of a child protection issue. Teachers will take these matters seriously and speak to the child away from the class as a matter of priority. Teachers will draw their concerns to the attention of the (the Designated Safeguarding Lead), or the Deputy Head and (See also Safeguarding Policy)

We may occasionally engage the expertise of other appropriate external partners to work with us to provide advice and support to children with regard to RSE and Health Education. Such visits should be arranged in consultation with the PSHE Co-ordinator. These sessions are in addition to, and intended to complement, our existing RSE provision.

Inclusivity

Special Educational Needs and Learning Differences

Our pupils have different needs based on their emotional and physical development, life experiences, and learning differences, but we aim to ensure that all pupils are properly included in RSE. Teachers will plan and deliver work in a variety of ways, in order to meet the needs of individual pupils with SEND or learning differences. We focus on activities that increase a pupil's assertiveness, communication and relationship skills, their self-esteem and understanding.

Equalities and Diversity

Schools, like all public institutions, have specific responsibilities in relation to equality and protected characteristics. Planning and resources are reviewed to ensure they comply with equalities legislation and the school's Equal Opportunities Policy.

All RSE is taught without bias and in line with legal responsibilities such as those contained within the Equality Act (2010). Topics are presented using a variety of views and beliefs so that pupils are able to form their own, informed opinions but also respect others who may have different opinions. The personal beliefs and attitudes of staff delivering RSE will not influence the teaching of the subject in school.

At Harvington School we seek to recognise and embrace the diverse nature of our community. We aim to value and celebrate religious, ethnic and cultural diversity as part of modern Britain. We will explore different cultural beliefs and values and encourage activities that challenge stereotypes and discrimination and present children with accurate information based on the law. We will use a range of teaching materials and resources that reflect the diversity of our community and encourage a sense of inclusiveness. We do not use RSE as a means of promoting any form of sexual orientation or gender.

The Role of Parents/Parental Right of Withdrawal

We recognise that parents and carers are the primary providers of RSE for their children. Our RSE curriculum is designed to support and complement this. We aim to build a positive and supportive relationship with parents and carers through mutual understanding, trust and co-operation.

In promoting this we will:

- Inform parents about the school's RSE policy and practice
- Answer any questions that parents may have about RSE for their child □ Take seriously any issues or concerns that parents raise.

Puberty forms part of statutory Health Education and therefore pupils cannot be withdrawn from these.

We will inform parents of the right to withdraw by letter in advance of non-statutory sex education lessons being taught. Parents and carers who wish to exercise their right to withdraw their child from non-statutory sex education should talk with the Form Teacher, or the PSHE co-ordinator or the Director of Studies who will explore any concerns and discuss resources being used.

If parents still wish to withdraw their child from non-statutory Sex Education lessons, this request will be recorded, and suitable alternative arrangements made for pupils during relevant lessons. The issue of withdrawal will be handled as sensitively as possible.

Location and Dissemination

Copies of this policy will be provided for teachers. Further copies are available on the school website and from the school office on request from parents.

Staff Support and Training

Harvington School believes in the importance of appropriate staff training to enable staff to deliver effective RSE. The PSHE Co-ordinator has already attended CPD on delivering the curriculum and will assist staff involved in the delivery of RSE.
